

I was born before creation,
when the world was yet to be.
From the dawn of time uncouthed
I have sung God's melody.

*I am Wisdom, His companion, ever at His side to be;
I delight in His creating,
never ending, ever free.*

Ev'ry sea and ev'ry river
I have seen them come to birth;
for the hills and for the mountains seen Him raise the virgin earth.

There were stars hung in the heavens,
and the clouds were in His plan;
but the time I'll ever cherish was the day He formed a man.

Never has He ceased creating,
and I'm with Him to this day;
so I'm glad to see His image
in the people of today.
