

Lord, in everything I do
let me always follow You;
let the moments of my days overflow with endless praise;
take my hands and let them move
at the impulse of Your love;
every move that I shall make,
Lord, direct the steps I take.

Lord, with all Your people here
You invite me to draw near;
Lord, accept the gifts I bring,
Lord, accept the praise I sing.
Take my lips and let them speak of Your goodness through the week;
let me echo this refrain till I come to You again.

As I listen to Your call,
Lord, I want to give my all;
take my heart and mind in use every power You shall choose;
all I have has come from You and I offer back to You only what was Yours before:
take my life for evermore.
