

There lived a Man Who walked by Galilee.
There lived a Man Who longed for harmony.
And the things He said were beautiful,
and the things He did were wonderful,
and He wanted us to follow in His way.

*The heavens rang with His cry
high on Calvary's hill,
although they left Him to die,
He lives still!*

There lived a Man Who knew His destiny.
There lived a Man Who gave His best for me.
And the things He said were beautiful,
and the things He did were wonderful,
and He wanted us to follow in His way.

There lives a Man Whose light now leads the way.
There lives a Mn Whose voice still speaks today.
For the things He says are beautiful,
and the things He does are wonderful,
and He wants us all to follow in His way.
