

*Yahweh, You are my strength and salvation.
Yahweh, You are my rock and my shield.*

When foes inside my soul assailed me,
He heard my cry for help and came to my aid.

He bent the heav'ns and came in thunder.
He flew to me and soared on wings of the wind.

The depths within my mind He showed me,
the hidden thoughts that I did not know were there.

His arm stretched from on high and held me.
He drew me from the deep, wild waters of self.

He is the lamp Who lights the darkness.
He guides me as I leap the ramparts of life.

I raise my voice and I sing His glory.
With all my heart I praise the God of my joy.
