

You shall go out with joy
and be led forth with peace.
The mountains and the hills will break forth before you;
there'll be shouts of joy,
and all the trees of the field
will clap, will clap their hands.

And all the trees of the field
will clap their hands,
the trees of the field
will clap their hands.
The trees of the field
will clap their hands
while you go out with joy.

You shall go out ...
